Autumn Value Event Features Week End

Teachers To Have Chance To View Latest Fall Fashions

Teachers and Canyonites, this is news!

What? An Autumn Value Event.
Where? At Canyon stores.
When? Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Why? To give the visiting teachers and the citizens of Canyon a chance to see what Canyon merchants have to offer in the newest of fall merchandise.

In keeping with the growing spirit of optimism that is sweeping the country, the merchants of Canyon are cooperatng this week end in an Autumn Value Event which will be a complete showing of new fall fashions in clothing and in fall merchandise and school supplies of the best quality at prices that cannot be surpassed.

Many Canyon merchants have just returned from state and northern markets and everyone of them have expressed themselves at being amazed at the low prices and also at the amount of buying and the feeling of "better days ahead" among all merchants.

As a result, these merchants have returned to their home town with large shipments of goods at new low prices and new high quality.

The Autumn Value Event will give the visiting teachers an opportunity to select clothes and merchandise for the school year and to make a selection while the showing is complete. It will enable the citizens of Canyon to see that local merchants have a showing this fall that would be a credit to merchants in much larger towns than this.

Training School Fees Reduced Still Further

The statement which was given the News last week regarding fees in the Demonstration school of the College was incorrect and Professor F. E. Savage and President Hill have requested that it be announced that fees have been reduced even more than stated last week.

Fees in the training school, thru the seventh grade, will be $3.00 per quarter. High school pupils will pay a fee of $6.00 per quarter.

With these reductions, it is expected that all grades will be full for the coming year. A number of out of town people are sending their children to the training school, including several who will drive daily from Amarillo.

College Farm To Employ 25 Boys Coming Session

The West Texas State Teachers College Farm, located on the site of the old T-Anchor Ranch will employ 25 college boys beginning September 20 when the fall session of the College opens. The young men, under the supervision of Professor T. M. Moore, of the Agriculture department, do all of the work of the farm which is maintained as a laboratory for the department.

The young men given places were chosen from more than 100 applicants. They are A. L. Jones, Eddy; George S. Gandy, Plainview; Ronald Davis, Childress; Howard C. Weatherly, Lakeview; Charles W. Jennings, Tulia; Arlin L. Hartzog, Farwell; Robert Lee Williams, Farwell; Tom W. Langston, Texico, New Mexico; Ralph Caldwell, Bovina; Cagle Teague, Childress; and William D. Hawkins, Hereford; all of whom have been workers on the farm before.

New boys are Gerald Roberts, Goodlett; Albert Smith, Turkey; Raymond Campbell, Tahoka; Paul E. Sweatt, Westbrook; Earl Breeding, McLean; Robert Kiker, Childress; I. T. Goodnight, Jr., Mobeetie; Faucette Rudolph, Mobeetie; Loren Denton, Lakeview; Mann Young, Paducah; Ed McMinn, Kirkland.

T-Anchor Reunion Is Being Held At Wragge Park

The Eleventh Old Time Cowpunchers' Round-Up of employees of the T-Anchor Ranch and cowboys of the early days of the Panhandle is being held today at the Wragge Park, one mile north of Canyon, with a large number of Panhandle pioneers in attendance.

Attendance is being restricted this year to those who actually worked on a ranch on or before December 31, 1895, their wives and children and their children's families, and the widows of deceased members.

Heretofore, a barbecue has been held but, owing to the expense of such an affair, this year a basket picnic is being held instead. According to the invitation sent out by John Arnot, president, every family was requested to bring a basket of "grub" and "a little extra to take care of the old bachelors.

Contract For Museum Approved Wednesday

A telegram was received yesterday by the News stating that the contract for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum had been filed with the Board of Control at Austin and the directors authorized to proceed with construction.

August 31 was the last day for the filing of the contract and the approval of the Board of Control was the last technicality to be attended to before the actual construction work could begin.

The W. Frank Litle Construction Company of Amarillo, contractors for the building, are expected to begin breaking ground for the museum building early next week.

Attendance Is Stressed At Rotary Meeting

The importance of attendance was the principal discussion at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club Tuesday. Albert Terry, chairman of the Attendance Committee was in charge of the program.

"Attendance and its relation to the Club and Rotary International," was the subject of his discussion. He stated that attendance is the dynamo of Rotary activities. Regular attendance at club meetings can easily be compared to the Rotary emblem wheel. Rotary is building for world-wide peace and this club is a spoke in the wheel for that movement. With the club's activities centering around attendance the entire system of Rotary hinges on that one phase of the organization.

Irby Carruth, also a member of the attendance committee, spoke briefly on why regular attendance is stressed. In order to get fellowship and to be of service, the two main watchwords of Rotary, there must be regular attendance. In order to contact fellow members and to feel the fellowship of Rotarians one must be present. To render service one must know what to do and when to do, and in order to know these things attendance is necessary.

Co-operation In Collecting Fair Exhibit Asked

If Randall County is to have an agricultural exhibit at the Tri-State Fair this year in keeping with her past reputation, it will be necessary to have the co-operation of every one who can help. Any farmer who knows the location of any field or garden containing products suitable for use in a county exhibit is asked to report it to the county agent or to Fred Wortham at his office in the court house.

It is impossible for those who assemble exhibits which will represent the county, to visit the farms in the county in the short time for gathering this material just before the fair. If you enjoy having your county well represented at the Fair help the cause along by reporting anything that you have. A complete list of the products needed can be found on page 102 to 104 of the Tri-State Fair catalogue.

Both time and money are short this year for this work. Your help will be very greatly appreciated.

REV. J. R. HICKS TO PREACH HERE SUNDAY

Rev. J. R. Hicks of Panhandle will preach here Sunday morning at the Baptist Church. Rev. Hicks, who was called to the pastorate of the church a few weeks ago, has announced that he will outline his program and make a statement concerning his acceptance, at the Sunday morning service. The pulpit committee urges that every member of the church be present.

NEW RESIDENTS

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Thurman, of Dallas, arrived in Canyon this week to make their home here. Mr. Thurman will be employed in the English Department at the College.

LARGE VOTE IS CAST IN RUN-OFF SAT.

Tabulations Indicate Mrs. Ferguson To Be Governor

RACES ARE CLOSE

Barnett, Heath, Neal, McCormick and Beckman are Winners In Local Races.

Last Saturday's Democratic run-off primary election brought out one of the largest votes in the history of Randall county. Over 2100 votes were cast in all the county with 1279 votes being cast in Precinct One. This vote in Precinct One surpassed the July vote by 22, setting an all time record for this precinct.

Latest unofficial tabulations on the Governor's race indicated that Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson would be the Democratic nominee by a very small majority. The Wednesday morning tabulations gave her a lead of 1,889 votes with 245 of the 254 counties in Texas as being complete.

Since the early returns of Saturday evening the count has been close and the lead has alternated between Mrs. Ferguson and Governor Ross S. Sterling. Early Saturday evening tabulations at one time gave Governor Sterling a lead of over 22,000 votes, the widest margin between the two candidates since the unofficial count began.

Col. Ernest O. Thompson, recently appointed to the unexpired term of former Gov. Pat M. Neff, was successful in his race for renomination to the 4 year term on the Railroad Commission, leading W. Gregory Hatcher by over 40,000 votes. Lee Satterwhite was defeated by C. V. Terrell, incumbent, in the Railroad Commissioner race for the 6-year term.

George B. Terrell won over Pink Parrish for Congressman-at-large, Place No. 1. For Place No. 2, Congressman-at-large, Joseph Weldon Bailey, Jr. defeated J. C. (Cyclone) Davis. Sterling P. Strong won from Joe Burkett for Place No. 3, congressman-at-large.

There was only one county race in Randall. Bob Barnett was winner in the sheriff's race by a majority of 166 votes over Ben Loudder.

In Precincts 1 and 2 voters chose commissioners and constables. Only 30 votes were between the candidates in precinct 1, with G. B. Heath receiving 650 to W. T. Hazle-

DR. J. A. HILL EXPECTS LARGE STUDENT BODY

ADVANCES IN PRICES WILL BE AID TO MANY.

Students May Attend W. T. More Cheaply than They Can Many Other Schools.

President J. A. Hill believes that the attendance at the College will be excellent. Dr. Hill is usually unwilling to express an opinion concerning college attendance, but at the present he feels that there are four good indications that the number of students will be up to normal.

Many people are already in Canyon making arrangements for living quarters for the year. The new arrangements at Randall Hall and the lowered rates at both halls are encouraging people to make their plans early. Every day there are many visitors at the offices of the President, Registrar and Bureau of Public Service which are kept open during the vacation.

Dr. Hill believes that the small advances in the prices of commodities make people more willing to spend what money they have and will help conditions of the farm and enable many boys and girls to go to school.

A large number of boys and girls are making great sacrifices to go to school this fall, because they have to choose between going to college under hardships and doing nothing. Most of them feel that life is too short to spend a whole year in idleness.

Another reason that the attendance at this particular college will be large, according to Dr. Hill, is the fact that students can attend so cheaply. "There will be students here this year who will spend as little as $100 outside their clothes," said Mr. Hill. "People are canning great quantities of food and planning to send many supplies from home to students who are away." It was pointed out that fees for the year amount to only slightly more than fifty dollars.

In his statement Tuesday, just before he left for Austin, President Hill said he had talked to many members of his faculty, practically all of whom were optimistic regarding the outlook for the session which opens on September 21.

Mrs. Amos Elliston and children of Crosbyton were here last week visiting her mother, Mrs. J. B. Hensley, who has been ill. Mrs. Hensley is now much improved.

Mrs. Susie Walton returned last week to her home in Sweetwater after a two months' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Ray V. Davis.

Many Interesting Courses Planned

Catalogues Of Tri-State Fair Are Received

Catalogues of the Tri-State Fair, to be held in Amarillo, September 19-24, inclusive, now are being received.

Every department of this annual attraction, which has defied the depression, is being maintained.

W. F. "Bill" Lampe, President of the Tri-State Fair Association, says the dairy cattle, swine, poultry, agriculture, horticulture and pet stock exhibits will be up to standard.

"Farmers and livestock men from over the Tri-State Fair territory expect to exhibit," he said. "Demand for exhibitors' space is good. Not only the fair officials but the railroads anticipate record crowds."

Railroads will offer the lowest fares to Amarillo in the history of the Panhandle. Round-trip tickets during the first two days will be sold for 60 per cent of the one-way fare. Excursion rates will be in effect during the remaining four days.

Among this year's Tri-State Fair attractions will be a world championship rodeo with $3,300 in prizes, night auto races, the Black Mask Players presenting nightly the best of their repertoire, the Wortham Shows with 350 people and a football game, Texas Tech vs. Texas A. & M. on the last day.

Prof. Phillips To Head Judging Contest At Fair

Professor Frank R. Phillips, head of the agriculture department of the West Texas State Teachers College, has been appointed superintendent of the student dairy cattle judging contest and of the Future Farmers collective exhibit at the Amarillo Tri-State Fair.

Professor T. M. Moore, also a member of the agriculture department, will be in charge of the vocational and 4-H clubs poultry judging contest at the fair. The recently published premium list and catalogue of the Tri-State Fair shows that Canyon is represented on the board of out-of-town directors for 1932 by Clyde W. Warwick, C. R. Burrow, J. A. Hill, T. C. Thompson, and R. A. Bellah.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Clark and daughters, Gem and Betty Sue, of Plainview visited in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Fred Wortham, this week.

F. E. Savage is Conductor, and W. E. Lockhart Is Sec'y-Treas.

West Texas Teachers Institute and Association of the Panhandle-Plains Counties opened its annual meeting here today with between 800 and 900 teachers in attendance and will close at noon Saturday. F. E. Savage, director of the demonstration school of the West Texas State Teachers College, is conductor and W. E. Lockhart of the department of business administration at the College is secretary and treasurer. Registration fees have been reduced this year from $1.50 to $1.00.

Counties which have indicated they will attend the institute sessions and their county superintendents are: Armstrong, S. P. Matthews; Deaf Smith, Earl W. Wilson; Gray, John B. Hessey; Hartley, R. A. Defee; Moore, F. S. Makeig; Oldham, Charles Ingram; Parmer, John Aldredge, Jr.; Potter, Laura V. Hamner, Randall, S. B. Orton; Roberts, J. A. Mead; and Swisher, W. A. Graham.

The opening session was held at 1:30 this afternoon in the auditorium of the administration building at the college. Josh Lee, head of the Department of Public Speaking at the University of Oklahoma, gave the opening address. Mr. Lee will speak to the teachers again tonight at 8:15.

Other general assembly programs will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock when Mrs. J. E. Griggs of Amarillo, a member of the Congress of Mothers and the Parent-Teachers Assocation, and Hon. Marvin Jones of Amarillo, congressman, will speak to the group. Friday afternoon at 1:30, Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the Texas State Teachers Association, and of W. T. S. T. C., will give an address. He will be followed by L. A. Woods, superintendent of the Waco schools.

Saturday morning beginning at 9 a. m., the following will speak to the teachers: Supt. I. H. Turney of Claude on "Education and the Depression"; Supt. C. H. Dillehay of Hereford on "The Need for Educational Publicity in 1932"; Supt. I. B. Carruth of Canyon, on "Organized Publicity for the School Executive"; and Supt. W. H. Younger of Tulia on "Organizing the Education Forces for Action."

Other instructors and lecturers will be: Dr. A. W. Evans, head of the Department of Education at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas; Dr. J. R. Grant, president of Ouchita College, at Arkadelphia, Arkansas; Ima L. Kuykendall, supervisor of primary in-

Canyon Schools to Open on Sept. 3

Strong Faculty Selected To Carry On Work Of 1932-33

Canyon Public Schools will begin enrollment for the 1932-33 session on Saturday, September 3, according to Supt. Irby Carruth. All freshmen and sophomores will enroll Saturday from 9 a. m. to 12 p. m. and seniors and juniors from 1 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. The pupils in grades 5, 6, and 7, will enroll Saturday morning. The first four grades are requested to wait until Monday morning, Sept. 5, to enroll.

All pupils who are planning to enter the high school are urged to discuss their prospective courses with their parents before registering. This will prevent the delay and confusion caused by changing courses after the school work has begun. Such a precaution is especially important for freshmen and sophomores. Parents are cordially invited to come to the school at any time for conferences concerning the welfare of the pupils.

An unusually strong faculty has been selected to direct the learning activities of the school during the coming session. After a summer of study, travel and other activities, the teachers have arrived in Canyon and are ready for work. New members of the teaching staff are: George Terry, principal of the high school; A. T. Barksdale, director of athletics; Miss Fannie Sue Brasuel, instructor in home economics, Cleveland Jones, who will take the position of J. D. Hazlewood, resigned, and Mrs. Cleatice Crump who will have charge of speech work and dramatics in both schools.

"I believe that if we are fortunate enough to keep the schools open for nine months that the year which lies before us will be one of the brightest in the history of our schools from the standpoint of achievement," stated Supt. Carruth yesterday in speaking of the coming session.

R. V. Davis, Family To Leave Canyon

Been Here 3 Years; To Return To Carlsbad, N. M.

It is with the deepest regret that citizens of Canyon and the entire Panhandle received the announcement this week that Ray V. Davis, canyon photographer extraordinary, will leave Canyon September 5 and return with his family to his former home at Carlsbad, New Mexico.

Mr. Davis came to Canyon in January, 1930 from Carlsbad, where he had attained national recognition as the first photographer of the Carlsbad Cavern. Since he has been here, he has made numbers of photographic studies of the Palo Duro Canyon and has worked tirelessly toward making the Palo Duro into a state park.

He is now serving his second term as vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce of Canyon and is custodian of the Free Park which was opened more than a year ago, 12 miles east of Canyon by the Amarillo and Canyon chambers of commerce.

"I regret very much," said Mr. Davis, "to leave Canyon and the fine people who live here. I wish to say in all seriousness that there are no finer people on earth than those who live in the Panhandle. I had hoped to live here for the rest of my life. I wish to express my appreciation for the many kindnesses and the friendliness shown to me and to my family during our residence here. Especially do I wish to express my appreciation for the confidence placed in me by electing me vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce and custodian of the park."

Mr. Davis has lived at Carlsbad more than 16 years and will continue his photographic business when he returns there.

COUNT YOUR CHANCE

There's no argument in this editorial. It's merely a collection of facts. Incontrovertible, eloquent facts that confound those who profess to see America slipping down into a state of effortless despair.

Total bank savings exceed $29,000,000,000, equal to more than $1,000 for every family in the land. Savings depositors number 32,000,000, nearly two per family.

The number of Americans owning stock has increased almost 40 per cent since 1929.

A group of 102 companies which had 1,339,036 stockholders at the end of the boom year, had 7,875,143 stockholders at the beginning of this year.

One company alone today has over 661,000 stockholders, a gain of more than 196,000 since the boom. This company has assets exceeding $3,200,000,000.

Our total stock of gold is $4,000,000,000. No other country ever possessed so much. Britain, for example, has only $568,000,000. Currency in circulation aggregates $5,464,000,000, or $700,000,000 more than in the boom.

Last year $10,500,000,00 worth of new life insurance was written.

Total insurance now carried is estimated at $100,000,000,000, or not far short of $1,000 for every man, woman and child in the United States. Policies in force total 127,800,000.

Such safe guard . . . is enjoyed by the people of no other nation in the world.

Our total national wealth, estimated at $925,700,000,000, is greater than that of a dozen Continental European countries combined.

The income of the American people comfortably exceeds $1,000,000,000 a week.

The per capita income here is far greater than in any other land.

There are still six or seven persons gainfully employed for every person idle.

No fewer than 25,800,000 automobiles are owned by Americans. . . . This total is almost three times the number owned by all the rest of the world.

Americans possess far more telephones (19,500,00) than all other countries. . . . Radios . . . multiply . . . over 16,545,000 . . . unapproached by any other people.

How many new domestic mechanical refrigerators have been bought, would you guess? A grand total of fully 3,700,000, at an estimated expenditure approaching $2,000,000,000. . . In no other part of the globe do half as many homes enjoy such a luxury—Americans are rapidly coming to regard it as a necessity.

A recent survey of 29 typical small towns revealed that 71 per cent of the inhabitants owned homes, that 88 per cent had electric light, 72 per cent had baths, 51 per cent had electric washers, 55 per cent had radios, 41 per cent had vacuum cleaners.

There are more families in America than in any other land that can afford to and do send their children to high school and college. In no other land do so many average families have the means to enjoy foreign travel.

. . . The movie still attracts a weekly average attendance of 75,000,000. . .

The percentage of our agricultural population who, despite deflation, are acquiring domestic comforts, conveniences, labor-saving devices, improved machinery, the use of better roads, is constantly increasing.

Today more than 700,000 farms are electrified, representing an increase of 400 per cent in eight years, and the total is beng swelled rapidly.

In industrial communities hard manual toil is being steadily abolished by the introduction of machinery. Each American worker now has at his command five horse power, a record not even remotely approached outside our boundaries.

The average working-day a generation ago was ten to twelve hours. The standard in this generation is eight hours. . . The work week used to consist of six days. Now it is five and one-half days, with the five-day week coming into vogue.

Never in the past was America so well equipped as it is today to resume an epochal forward march. Not only have we changed from a debtor nation to the greatest creditor nation on earth, not only have we vaster national wealth, not only have we an unprecedented supply of gold, but we are richer in experience, richer in inventive brains, richer in scientific knowledge, richer in machinery, richer in productive facilities, richer in managerial skill, richer in discovered mineral and oil resources, richer in transportation facilities, . . . richer in every material wealth-creating product and process, richer in craftsmanship, richer in everything. . . .

The country is all right. What we need is less hysteria and more confidence and courage.—Collier's, The National Weekly.

THE MUSEUM BUILDING

The following is an editorial by Olin E. Hinkle, in the Pampa Daily News regarding the museum building of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society:

Today's congratulations go to President T. D. Hobart of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society and his museum building committee. Their raising of $25,000 to match the state's similar appropriation was a monumental feat during this Hoover era. The local man, long president of the society, will have the pleasure of dedicating the fine building in early winter. It will be the only state-owned museum in the state. Those persons having old relics should save them for the museum's permanent collection.

The museum drive has had the highly valued assistance of the Teachers college staff, of Prof. L. P. Sheffy as field secretary, and of dozens of oldtimers who assisted in the drive. The pioneering work of J. Evetts Haley, now of the University of Texas, should not be overlooked. He acquainted hundreds of oldtimers with the work of the society and gathered tons of old records and relics.

We recall with interest the origin of the historical society. Miss Hattie M. Anderson, professor of history at the Teachers college is the originator of the movement. This writer, as a student in her American history class back in 1922, noticed one day on her desk a publication of the Missouri Historical society. Conversation drifted to the need of such an organization in and for the Panhandle. Miss Anderson revealed that she had plans for such a society, and shortly afterward a meeting of students and a few faculty members was called under the auspices of the history department. Such was the beginning of a movement which has reached out to encompass the interest of hundreds of folk in the Panhandle. The Pampan has been connected with the organization since that first meeting, and is a life member in the records and in lasting interest.

THE PRIMARY IS OVER.

The primary election is over, and the sooner folks forget about politics and go back to work, the better it will be for every one. Whether you voted for Sterling or Ferguson is now a matter of history, and should be treated as such. No matter whom you supported in the hotly contested race for sheriff in Randall county, winner or loser, let's get behind the winner and make Randall county the cleanest county on the Plains.

Election grudges carried into the future make people miserable and useless.

This has been the worst year for campaign lies that the country has ever witnessed, but fortunately few people will long remember them. They should be forgotten as quickly as possible.

There is much work ahead for all. Let's do it, this work, now that so many new officers have been swept into office. They will need your full and complete support if their administrations are to be successful.

Now that the "house-cleaning" is over, as the voters called the two last primaries, we are wondering if they will not come to the conclusion after a few weeks of the new officials that they elected just about as many unfits as there were in office. "Turn them out" was the watchword of this year's primaries. No intelligence was shown in the selection of those to be turned out.

Southern journalism continues to scoop the rest of the United States, when it comes to quotations reprinted in Topics in Brief in the Literary Digest. From the newspapers of the 11 southern states, comes 44 per cent of the quotations of two weeks ago, and 41 per cent of the quotations of last week. No other section of the United States holds such a record.

The increase in the price of cotton, and the big crop in Texas will bring back prosperity so far as the state as a whole is concerned quicker than any legislation, or other movement that might be started. It is predicted now that there will be 10 cent cotton by Christmas, and that would certainly help a lot.

If reports on what the Farm Board has done for the farmer are true, what the farmer needs is relief from government relief.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

CARR, BAUSCH, DIDRIKSON AND HAMPSON PROVIDE GAMES' GREATEST THRILLS IN SETTING NEW WORLD AND OLYMPIC RECORDS

BY PHILIP MARTIN

ON to Germany in 1936! But before the 11th Olympic games of the modern series is assembled in Berlin four years hence, lets look back over the program that was unfolded at Los Angeles.

Truly, it was the greatest drama ever presented in athletics, from the opening ceremony down through 135 competitions in 14 major branches of sport. More than a million persons, the greatest crowd in Olympic history, viewed the 16-day spectacle.

What was the greatest performance of the games? There were many that will stand out boldly, even after other Olympiads are held.

IN the track and field contests, I look upon the world record performances of Tom Hampson of Great Britain and Bill Carr, Jim Bausch and Mildred (Babe) Didrikson of the United States as the greatest.

Hampson ran the fastest 800 meters ever raced by man. The tall English school teacher fairly flew the distance, which is 5.1 yards short of our half-mile, in the world record time of 1 minute 49.8 seconds. At his elbow ran Alex Wilson of Notre Dame University, competing for Canada. There was no more thrilling duel in the entire games than when these great runners leveled off in the home stretch drive.

Equally hair-raising, however, was the third meeting of little Bill Carr and lanky Ben Eastman in the 400 meters. Carr's dazzling speed chipped four-fifths of a second from the world record and one and two-fifths seconds from the Olympic mark. He won in 46.2 seconds, but Eastman finished so close on his heels that he also came under the world record.

It will take many an Olympiad to surpass the general all-around ability displayed at Los Angeles by Miss Didrikson and Bausch. The Texas girl accounted for two world records—in the javelin throw and the 80-meter hurdles—and eclipsed another mark in the high jump, only to be beaten by Jean Shiley, her teammate. Bausch's contribution was the amazing total of 3,462.23 points in the decathlon, in which he surpassed every known record for the 10-event grind.

Olympic games may come and go, but the world will have to wait many years to see a quartet of athletes as great as these shown above. They are Mildred (Babe) Didrikson of Texas, above, and three world record breakers, below, left to right: Tom Hampson of England, William Carr of Arkansas and Jim Bausch of Kansas.

THERE were other great performances, too. They were engineered by Tolan, Saling, Tisdale, Beccali, Lehtinen, Kusocinski, Sexton, O'Callaghan, Anderson, Miller, Nambu, Jarvinen, Iso-Hollo and Zabala in the men's events and Stella Walsh, Jean Shiley and Lillian Copeland in the women's.

I would name the triumph of the University of California crew in the rowing races as one of the greatest thrills. Here was a nerve-tingler right up to the last back-breaking pull, with the Californians winning by less than a yard from eight gallant Italian oarsmen. It climaxed an undefeated year for the Golden Bears and duplicated the record of their 1928 team.

One of the oddities of life is that every man who lives to be 100 years old either attributes it to drinking whiskey or to never having touched a drop.

We read that a woman lived to be 120 before she ever came in contact with a train or auto. Maybe that's why she lived so long.

OUR PEACE TIME ARMY.

In the reorganization of the United States Army after the World War many new ideas were adopted in the light of experience gained during that struggle. The most important of these was the planning of an organization capable of creating a war-time Army built around the skeleton of the peace-time force.

Details of this war-time organization are studied continually by the War Plans Division, which has provided for the handling of large bodies of men without the delays and confusion heretofore experienced when National emergencies have arisen.

The country is divided into nine corps areas, the commanders of which in time of war have charge of mobilization of all troops raised within their respective districts.

In the War Department, besides the Secretary of War and two assistant secretaries, are the chief of staff and chiefs of seven combatant branches and nine staff corps. The peace time strength is thus capable of being rapidly expanded into an Army of millions with little change in the present plan of organization.

After the Revolution the Army was cut to 700 men, after the war of 1812 to 8,000, and after the Civil War to 25,000. After the Spanish-American War the authorized strength was 100,000, but this figure was never reached except during the Mexican border trouble. Since 1920 the authorized strength has been 280,000, but it has been limited by lack of appropriations to approximately 118,000 men, or less than one for each 1,000 of population.

While it is the sincere hope of all right thinking persons that its employment in warfare may not again be necessary, it is gratifying to know that our Army is now organized along the most modern and effective lines, and trained to an efficiency unequalled by any body of fighting men in the world.

In spite of recent general reductions in living costs, according to the annual report on the subject by the National Industrial Conference Board, the cost of living has not reached pre-war levels. At the close of 1931 it was still 34 per cent higher than in July, 1914.

During this same period, however, the AVERAGE COST of domestic electric service has decreased 32 per cent BELOW the July, 1914, average.

Housewives Urged to Enter Canning Contest

There is still time for women and girls in this community to enter the International Canning Contest which is being conducted at the Log Cabin, Aurora, Illinois. This contest is being held for the purpose of encouraging women to do more home canning, and to send their home-canned products to Aurora to be judged.

Over $5,000 in cash and merchandise is being awarded in the contest which is being sponsored by Ball Brothers Company of Muncie, Indiana. The contest is absolutely free, no entry fee being required. If you wish to enter the contest write to the Secretary, Grace Viall Gray, Log Cabin, Aurora, Illinois, and a free Perfect Mason Jar will be sent. The empty jar will come to you in a carton, all ready for mailing back. In the carton you will find the prize list, the rules and regulations and labels.

If you like to can tomatoes, there are prizes for the best jars of tomatoes. If you excell in fruits there are prizes for peaches, pears, plums and apples. If you like to make pickles, why not try for some of the pickle prizes. In the Pickle Class relishes, ketchups, chili sauces are all included. Perhaps you have on your shelves some nice jars of home-canned meat or chicken. Why not take them down, wrap them up and sent them to Aurora. Some woman is going to win $100 in cash for just one jar of home-canned food. It may be that the jar sitting on your kitchen table could be a Grand Champion Jar! If it stays on the kitchen table it has no opportunity of bringing you fame and fortune; but if it is sent on its way to the International Canning Contest, it may there bring great honors to you and your community. The contest closes October 1, so there is still time to enter.

We are right at the peak of the canning season at the present time. There are still beautiful peaches, red tomatoes, purple plums, besides many pickle combinations that may be put into glass jars, not forgetting the many different kinds of jellies, marmalades, as well as jams.

4H Club Girls will be particularly interested in the Jelly Class, as there is a $100 scholarship awaiting some lucky 4-H Club girl. There is also a $300 4-H Club scholarship in the Balanced Meal Class.

Canning recipes and instructions are free for the asking by writing Mrs. Gray.

Cambro-Ordovician crude oil of Oklahoma is the oldest of the Mid-continent crudes—being already ages old when dinosaurs tramped above its hidden reservoirs. It has mellowed longer, filtered longer, contains less carbon than younger Mid-continent crudes. Miss Ruth Pearl Knight Becomes Bride of Spearman Man August 24th

Mr. and Mrs. John Knight of Canyon have announced the wedding of their daughter, Miss Ruth Pearl Knight, to Mr. A. H. Word of Spearman.

The wedding took place Wednesday, August 24th, at Sayre Oklahoma, and came as a complete surprise to the many friends of both the bride and groom. Officiating in the ceremony was Rev. J. L. Means, Presbyterian minister of Sayre, at whose home the quiet wedding was held.

Mrs. Word is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Knight, pioneer settlers of Canyon, Texas, who have made their home at Canyon for the past 43 years. She holds a degree in music from the West Texas State Teachers College, has completed graduate work in music at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo. For a time Mrs. Word was a member of Dean Grabill's Master Piano Class of San Francisco, Calif. For the past few years, Mrs. Word has been the head of the music department in the Panhandle schools. She has been very active in civic and club affairs, having served as an officer in the Junior Fine Arts Club, organized and instructed one of the largest girls glee clubs in this section of the state, and served for three years as pianist and honorary entertainment director for the Panhandle Lions Club.

Mr. Word, an honor graduate of Baylor University, who became a member of the Spearman public school faculty eight years ago, is the son of Mrs. H. B. Word of Bonham, Texas. His popularity and ability is attested in the rapid progress he has made as an instructor in Spearman, since he now heads the entire school system of that city. Mr. Word has been active in civic affairs, in Spearman and Hansford County, and the many patrons of Spearman schools continually express their high admiration and appreciation for Mr. Word.

The couple will make their home in Spearman.

Future Farmers End 2-Day Camp Friday

Recreation and Work Were Combined In Day's Program

Eighty-six Future Farmers of America broke their two-day camp at the Tierra Blanca Farm one mile east of Canyon at noon Friday, and after spending two hours in the museum of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society were on their way to their homes in seven Panhandle counties.

The boys, accompanied by their vocational agriculture teachers arrived in camp at noon Wednesday when they butchered a beef which had been provided by the Tierra Blanca Farms and prepared it for barbecuing. They did their own cooking in approved western style and enjoyed a feast when all had arrived Thursday night.

Recreation and work were mingled at the encampment, Buck Munday of Pampa and Spud Lynch of McLean tying for first place in the swimming contest in which seven teams competed.

Playground ball teams were organized and Pampa carried off first place in the tournament.

Professor Frank R. Phillips, head of the agriculture department of the West Texas State Teachers College, assisted by Charles Franz manager of the Tierra Blanca Farms, had arranged for practice judging hogs and dairy cattle. Four schools competed in the practice and Ralph Stevenson and D. Patterson of Claude made scores of fifty points in their work.

Wayne Hutchins of Claude, Buck Munday of Pampa, and L. Lockhart of Pampa, each made 48 points.

Secretary A. A. Tampke, of McLean said that the judging practice would have been impossible without the excellent cooperation and assistance of Charles Franz.

In the practice judging of Jerseys, Brady McCoy and Glenn Hunt of McLean each scored 80 points; G. McCarty and C. Schneider of Dalhart scoring 68 and 65 points respectively. Four schools competed.

The vocational agriculture teachers who accompanied the boys were James Hill, Claude; A. A. Tampke, McLean; J. L. Lester, Pampa; Frank Dupree, Dodsonville; R. C. Lind, Dalhart; Geo. P. Grout, Panhandle; J. R. Bertrand, president of the Panhandle Future Farmers of Texas, represented White Deer.

All of the schools represented will have educational exhibits in the Future Farmers Booths of the Amarillo Tri-State Fair.

WHERE'S THE INTERPRETER?

From Washington diplomatic circles there floats to my big and ready ears a delightful little episode of Sir Esme Howard and the bell boy. Sir Esme quite enjoys telling, so I hear, how he walked briskly into the foyer of the Mayflower Hotel, and stopped for a moment to speak with one of the bright-buttoned servitors in the lobby. After he walked on, an assistant manager who had noted the incident, went over to the boy and said, "What did the Ambassador want?"

"I don't know," answered the bell-hop. "He couldn't speak English."—New York Morning Telegraph.

NOT SO DIGESTIBLE.

To my many friends who so loyally supported me by their vote in the primary election Saturday I express my sincere thanks and appreciation. I endeavored to conduct this campaign in such a manner as to hold the friendship of those who did not support me. I hold the kindleest feeling toward all and submit to the decision of the majority.

WHAT OTHER PEOPLE THINK.

Reparations are now revealed as unrealizable and useless.—Franz von Papen, German chancellor.

Although we hear a great deal about married women workers taking the bread out of unemployed men's mouths, nothing is said about the bread they put in the thousands of mouths of families who otherwise would be in the bread line.—Mrs. Helen Z. Rodgers, Buffalo, N. Y., attorney.

What gold hoarding that there was in the United States was practically all done by foreigners and people influenced by foreigners. The Active American population, especially in the interior, has done almost none of it.—Dr. Benjamin M. Anderson, New York economist.

I don't think a man has a chance to build up a defense and present that defense before a Senate committee.—W. R. Daley, attorney for Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland financier.

I am glad the government has put its foot down. De Valera is a tyrant. He will never change.—Lloyd George, British statesman.

Trench Silos for Big West Texas Feed Crop

JUST WHAT ITS NAME IMPLIES, a trench silo is simply a trench dug into the ground into which chopped feed crops may be stored for feeding as succulent ensilage to dairy cows, beef cattle and work stock during periods of dry pastures or bad weather. Cheap, easily dug, easily filled, ensilage easily removed, the big disadvantage of a trench silo is excessive spoilage which may be avoided by properly filling, and by providing drainage. More than 200 were dug in Texas in 1931 and county agent reports indicate a big increase for 1932, especially in West Texas.

How Cheap Goods are BOUGHT
And Cheap Prices are BORN!

JOHN RUSKIN SAID, "THERE IS HARDLY ANYTHING IN THE WORLD THAT SOME MAN CANNOT MAKE A LITTLE WORSE AND SELL IT A LITTLE LITTLE CHEAPER AND THE PEOPLE WHO CONSIDER PRICE ALONE ARE HIS LAWFUL PREY."

"CHEAP," IT'S BEEN THE "BUY WORD" FOR NEARLY TWO YEARS, BUT ITS DAY OF RECKONING HAS COME. CHEAP GOODS ARE SHORT-LIVED BECAUSE THEY BREED ONLY DISSATISFACTION, REGRET, EXPENSE AND FALSE ECONOMY.

THE PATRON OF CHEAP GOODS IS BEGINNING TO SAY: "OH WHERE, OH WHERE, HAS MY ECONOMY GONE." AND THE DEALER IN GOODS IS SAYING, "OH WHERE, OH WHERE ARE MY CUSTOMERS GONE," LINCOLN HAD THE ANSWER WHEN HE SAID, "YOU CAN'T FOOL ALL THE PEOPLE ALL THE TIME."

ONLY QUALITY CAN SURVIVE, AND ONLY BUYERS OF QUALITY GOODS WILL THRIVE IN THEIR EFFORTS TO EFFECT ECONOMY. BUYING GOODS BY PRICE ALONE IS NEVER ECONOMY. PRICE IS ONLY WHAT YOU GIVE FOR IT. VALUE IS WHAT IT GIVES YOU.

THE SMALL DIFFERENCE IN PRICE BETWEEN CHEAP GOODS AND QUALITY GOODS DOSN'T WARRANT ANYONE TRIFLING WITH TOO LOW A PRICE.

White Is Just Right for Autumn Wear

TASTEFUL BLACKS, WORN PROPERLY, EXCELLENT FOR EVENING FROCKS, WHICH ARE GOING IN FOR SIMPLICITY

BY HARRIET

BLACK and white silhouettes seem to be the center of most evening parties. The stag line has a habit of forming around them when the girls in blue and pink and green, beguiling as they may be, sit along the wall or run away to powder their noses.

White, which had a place in the summer fashions for evening, isn't relinquishing it with the coming of autumn. Tanned faces and arms and shoulders are twice as interesting when they are set off with white, either something snowy, off-white or ivory.

Black has always been considered exceedingly smart. But it must be made of a distinctive material, cut on faultless lines, and worn with the grace of a professional model, if you want it to bring you the attention it should. Black, unless worn smartly, is going to put its wearer right along the wall when the dance begins.

Evening frocks are going in for simplicity. Useless ornamentation is decidedly out of taste. The material and the cut of the gown should be able to co-operate successfully in selling enough charm to advertise the frock. Frocks mold themselves to the natural lines of the body

Short puffed sleeves are appearing on evening frocks as well as daytime dresses. A cross shoulder effect which lets just the suggestion of a cape appear at the shoulders is splendid, also. Some evening frocks use short sleeves. One dress has wheels for running all the way around the shoulders, down to the waist.

A capelet treatment is featured on other evening gowns. Some frocks use high waists, and let the ends of the capelet cross in front and twist to form a girdle. The effect is decidedly sophisticated, yet as simple and alluring as any debutante ever wore.

Fall evening frocks often combine two colors. When they catch this spirit they give the black and white gowns considerable rivalry. Skirts frequently are topped by wool or cotton lace. Otherwise lace doesn't appear on the evening program.

A gown of sheer tulle, over a fine lace slip, ideal for evening wear, is shown at left. A Nile green cire ribbon brings a note of gaiety to the gown's waistline. At right is an evening gown of heavy white romain cut on the new simple lines. The double strap back decollete is new.

One slender black skirt has a blouse of white starched cotton with a shoulder line that gives the suggestion of a cape.

The sheerness of tulle, which makes it desirable for evening wear, is used over a fine lace slip, in one black model. A Nile green cire ribbon brings note of gaiety to the frock's waistline.

Heavy white romain, cut on simple lines, is one of the most attractive of the new models. A double strap back decollette is new.

COUNTIES OF THE U. S.

Some facts regarding the area, population and other statistics concerning counties in the United States may be of interest.

There are 3,072 counties in the 48 States, of which Texas has the greatest number, 254, and Delaware the smallest number, 3.

San Bernardino County, in California, is the largest, with an area of 20,175 square miles. New York County is the smallest, with an area of only 22 square miles. Bristol County, in Rhode Island, is the next smallest, with 24 square miles.

Citing another case of extremes, Armstrong County, in South Dakota, with an area of 540 square miles, has no post office, while Allegheney County, in Pennsylvania, with 725 square miles, has 150 post offices.

And speaking of post offices, Leadville, Colo., is the highest, being 10,190 feet above sea level, while Calipatria, Calif., 175 feet below sea level, is the lowest.

North Carolina and Virginia have exactly 100 counties each. States having more than 100 counties are Illinois, 102; Kansas, 105; Missouri, 114; Kentucky, 120; Georgia, 161; Texas, 254.

One State, Louisiana, has no counties. But this does not mean that it has no political subdivisions as other States have. In Louisiana these subdivisions are called parishes, of which the State has 64.

Handcraft Exhibit is Very Interesting

Spanish, Colonial And Pioneer Homes Exhibited

One of the most interesting exhibits which were features of the closing days of the summer term at the College last week was the exhibit of handcraft by an Education class which was taught by Miss Mary Adaline Lamb.

A Spanish house, a Colonial Home and a Pioneer Home were shown. The houses and all their furnishings were made by members of the class. The purpose of the projects was to show what can be done in an ordinary school with materials at hand to vitalize the work for little children.

In constructing the houses, each group worked out the furnishings and decorations for one room, then the group adjusted the individual plans to make a harmonizing whole.

The pioneer home showed a hand loom, spinning wheel, large fireplace on which cooking was done, and apart from the house a smoke house, typical of those in which meats were formerly cured and stored.

The Colonial home was built somewhat on the order of Mt. Vernon, with a long porch, in front, and with the kitchen and work rooms separate from the house. Canopied beds, hooked rugs and furniture representative of the period were seen in the rooms.

The Spanish house was designed with a patio in which were placed palm trees, benches and a fountain. The exterior and interior showed the strong colors and simple art which is generally evident in American-Spanish homes.

Besides learning much of the uses of materials at hand, the students had learned a great deal of life in the homes they built. One girl said "I had never seen or heard of a trundlebed, but I had to learn about them in order to make one for the bedroom of the pioneer home."

Members of the class were Katharine Ball, Cleo Brown, Maurine Courson, Effie Crudgington, Helen Estes, Minnie Freeman, Mrs. S. P. Hargrove, Josephine Hewitt, Birl Hight, Mrs. S. L. Lee, Mrs. H. H. Lisles, Josie Lummis, Emma Melborn, Mrs. J. W. Peeples, Mrs. B. W. Rhodes, Mrs. C. W. Rose, Mrs. Carolyn Wallingford and Mrs. C. H. Williams.

Unique Midwestern "Farm Strike" Calls Attention to Farmer's Plight

UNPRECEDENTED in United States history and one of the most colorful economic situations that has come out of the depression, is the "farm strike" which recently sprang up in the midwestern cornbelt.

The "strike" launched by hundreds of husky farmers, who picketed Iowa and Nebraska roads to prevent farm produce from being marketed, thus stimulating demand and jacking up prices, has directed widespread public attention to the plight of the farmers who say that present prices are below the cost of production.

According to Milo Reno, leader of the striking farmers, "the price for farm produce must be based upon the American standard of living, and we insist that the farmer refuse to deliver for less. Values must and will be determined by the labor required to produce instead of by a manipulated and fluctuating dollar. We propose to stop the confiscation of our farm homes by criminal deflation."

Reno, who organized the farm strike as president of the National Farmers' Holiday Association, was for 10 years president of the Iowa Farmers' Union. For more than a decade he has crusaded vigorously for farm relief.

"Not one promise made to agriculture in the last 12 years has been fulfilled," Reno said. "Seventy-five per cent of the farm values have been destroyed in the interests of the moneyed group."

ACCORDING to the farmers, it was the deflation of 1921 that started agriculture on its downward path. Nothing was done afterward, they say, to prevent the deepening of the agricultural depression, consequently, many farm tenants and owners have been having everything taken away from them. All efforts of the farmers to get hold of the machinery of marketing in order to cut down the disparity between the price they get for their goods and the price the consumer pays have failed—partly, the farmers say, because of their own ignorance, and partly because of the greed of the men who have been controlling that machinery.

Under present conditions, "a farmer can work his head off for a full year and then wind up $2000 in debt," according to Fred Kriege, president of the Nebraska Farmers' Holiday Association. Figures prepared by the association illustrate this statement. Taking into consideration all the expenses borne by an average midwest farmer, the cost of land, machinery, labor, taxes, depreciation, etc., the association submitted the following data:

It costs the farmer 92c a bushel to raise corn. The average price for corn, over a five-year period, has been 69c a bushel. Likewise, it costs him $1.36 to raise a bushel of wheat, whereas the average price, over the five-year period, has been $1.02 a bushel. And it costs him $11.25 per hundredweight to raise hogs. The average price per hundredweight, during the last five years, has been $8.46.

Whether these figures are correct or not, they are at least accepted by a lot of farmers—which makes the strike easier to understand.

Probably a more compelling reason for the strike is that voiced by a prominent Iowan agricultural expert. "The conservative farmer is beginning for the first time to think about hunger," he says. "They know that 60 per cent of their group at almost any time may be dispossessed of their farms, on which mortgages are being held by banks and landlords. And their fears are fanned by instances of foreclosure and dispossession which occur regularly."

Northwest Iowa, where the "strike" began, is a region of unusually rich soil and, being so fertile, farmers were enabled to borrow much money on it. This explains why most of its farms bear heavy mortgages. The fact that there are a great many tenant farmers in this region is an additional reason why the people there are highly receptive to the appeals of strike organizers.

A few of the many farmer "pickets" stationed on roads leading into midwest market towns to prevent farm produce from being marketed, thus creating demand and raising prices, are shown in the picture above. Below, a number of striking farmers are shown examining the load carried by a truck which they have stopped by means of nail-studded planks, and wire stretched across the road.

SEEING THE SIGHTS.

It is difficult to imagine the sensations experienced by persons from isolated sections of the world, particularly island dwellers, when first brought into contact with the facilities of modern life.

A recent dispatch tells of the wonder with which Rachel Gillies, a 17-year-old girl from the Island of St. Kilda, off the English coast, first saw a horse, an automobile, a railroad train and a moving picture on her first visit to the mainland.

Thousands of people live and die without seeing any of these things, although they live within a comparatively short distance of them all.

But it is not only those who live in sparsely settled localities who are unfamiliar with objects which are common-place to the great majority. Not long ago a large and curious crowd gathered in a certain section of New York City to see a strange animal which had often been heard of but never witnessed by those who gathered to gaze upon the beast.

It was a cow.
